Two Popular Young People Joined In Wedlock.

KISER-HARTLEY NUPTIALS

The Bride is One of Bedford's Fairest Daughters, the Groom a Prominent Electrical Engineer of Pittsburgh.

The home of William Hartley, Jr., on Juliana street, was the scene of a brilliant wedding Wednesday evening, when his daughter, Miss Lulu B. Hartley, was united in marriage to Alexander B. Kiser, of Pittsburgh.

Promptly at 6.30 o'clock, as the piano, Miss L. D. Shuck, began playing the wedding march from Lohengrin, the officiating clergyman, Rev. Dr. Alexander R. Miller, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, entered the parlor. He was followed by the groom and his brother, Robert W. Kiser, of Pittsburgh, who was best man. Then came the flower girls, Misses Anna Kiser, a sister of the groom, and Miss Mary Hartley, a sister of the bride. The maid of honor, Miss M. Sue Jordan, of Bedford, preceded the bride and her father.

The beautiful ring service of the Methodist Episcopal church was used. During the ceremony Miss Shuck played softly Liszt's "De Charity." After the nuptial knot had been tied the guests heartily congratulated the happy couple.

The bride wore a handsome gown of ivory satin, trimmed with rose point lace, and carried a bouquet of white flowers. The groom wore a tuxedo, and carried a sword. The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Dr. Alexander R. Miller, of Pittsburgh.

The house was handsomely decorated with evergreen and flowers. The main floor was covered with the bride's party, and a bank of ferns and roses. Dainty refreshments were served from 7 to 9 o'clock. At eight o'clock, amid a shower of rice, Mr. and Mrs. Kiser started for the station to take the train on their wedding trip. They will spend their honeymoon in Maine and will make their home in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Kiser is one of Bedford's most popular and gifted young women. She possesses the rare faculty of making and retaining friends. She will be greatly missed by the church, the Sunday school and the Epworth League, in the work of which organizations she always took an active part. Mrs. Kiser is a graduate of the Bedford high school, class of '91. The groom is a son of David O. Kiser and is a prominent young electrical engineer.

The presents received by the bride were numerous and handsome, among them being a complete silver chest of drawers, a china closet with 14 pieces, a silver service, cut glass, bric-a-brac, linen, etc. The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond ring.

One hundred and twenty-five guests were present, among those from a distance being the following: D. O. Kiser, W. A. Black and family, Miss Elizabeth Sands, Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, Mr. and Mrs. George Forest, William Kiser, J. G. Sansom, J. K. Dillon, Charles Kiser, H. W. Hartley, of Pittsburgh; Mrs. J. E. Shires and daughters, of Mansfield, O.; S. D. Sansom and wife, of Harrisburg; Miss May Gilchrist, of Cumberland; Samuel S. Jordan, of Alliance, O.; Dr. and Mrs. C. O. Miller, of Saxton.

The GAZETTE joins their multitude of friends in wishing the bride and groom a full measure of happiness and prosperity.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Clement Beagle, a Young Man, Living at Saxton, Killed on Saturday.

OTTOWNE, June 28.—One of the most eventful days that has ever occurred in this community for some time, took place Saturday evening, when the news was flashed through the neighborhood that Clement Beagle, oldest son of Mrs. Annie Beagle, was lost.

Clement was cleaning the rye out of a wheat field for M. P. Shaw, who told him to come home at five o'clock. When Mr. Shaw came from Bedford about half past seven he found the boy was not there. He at once seemed to think something had happened, since the boy was always prompt and obedient. He therefore notified a number of his neighbors and the search was begun and continued for two or three hours, when the lifeless body was found in the middle of one of F. M. Ott's fields, which lay in a direct line with the field in which Clement was working and the home of Mr. Shaw, to which the boy was undoubtedly going.

From the condition of his clothing, and since an awful thunder storm passed over this section, it was evident that he was struck and killed by lightning; nevertheless the coroner, Mr. A. Stoenor, was summoned and he held an inquest. The jury's verdict was that the young man came to his death by being struck by lightning. The clothes of the deceased were torn into shreds and his body burned from his head to his feet.

Clement Beagle was born on February 24, 1885, and met his death on June 28, 1901, aged sixteen years, three months and twenty-eight days. He was a member of the Lutheran church and was beloved and respected by all who knew him. He was quiet and peaceable and, above all, a Christian. The funeral services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. J. W. Lingie. The remains were laid to rest in the cemetery adjoining the church on Monday afternoon.

CROP CONDITIONS.

The Outlook For Good Yields Is More Favorable.

The weather bureau's weekly summary of crop conditions is as follows: The temperature conditions of the week ending June 21 were highly favorable in nearly all parts of the country, especially in the Rocky mountain region and on the Pacific coast, where the previous week was abnormally cold. The South Atlantic states, which suffered from excessive rains in the previous week, have experienced more favorable conditions for cultivation. Rain was being seriously delayed. Rain is now very generally needed in the Central and West Gulf states, including Arkansas and southern Missouri.

Further and general improvement in the condition of corn is indicated. In Nebraska, the Dakotas and portions of Iowa the crop is in need of cultivation, but is generally clean in the last named state. In Missouri corn is holding out well, but the southern portion of the state must have rain soon or sustain serious damage. In Illinois, Indiana and Ohio corn is backward, but is now making rapid growth. In the southern states the corn crop is doing well, except in Texas, Louisiana and southern Mississippi, where it is greatly in need of rain, especially in Texas. In the Atlantic coast states the crop has made favorable progress, but needs cultivation in portions of the Virginia and Carolinas.

Winter wheat harvest has advanced under favorable conditions during the week and is now in progress in the northern portions of the central and western districts of the winter wheat belt, with generally satisfactory results, both as to yield and quality. In Michigan and portions of Pennsylvania and New York crops have caused deterioration and increased reports of rust are received from Ohio and Virginia. In the Carolinas grain in shock has suffered some injury from moisture. In California harvest is progressing in all sections. In Oregon and Washington the prospects continue favorable and wheat is ripening in the first named state.

The spring wheat region has experienced very favorable weather conditions and the outlook for spring wheat is now most encouraging, although in northern Minnesota some fears of lodging are entertained. The crop is now heading over the southern portion of the spring wheat region.

In the Ohio valley and Middle Atlantic states the oat crop has made favorable progress and is generally improved in the states of the Upper Mississippi and Upper Missouri valleys.

The general outlook for hay is very satisfactory, except in portions of the central Mississippi and Lower Missouri valleys, where it is not as good as usual. Hay is now in progress in the more northerly sections.

In the central portions of the cotton belt cotton has continued to improve. In the Carolinas and Florida the crop is very grassy, but has received much needed cultivation in Georgia. In South Carolina, however, a slight improvement is reported, but in both the Carolinas and Florida the condition of the crop is not promising, some fields in South Carolina having been abandoned. Over the northern portions of the western districts cotton has made rapid growth, and, while holding out well in Louisiana and Texas, it would be greatly benefited by rains. Some picking has been done in southern Texas.

In the principal tobacco states tobacco is growing well and the stands are thriving. Transplanting is now about finished in the more northerly sections, and cutting has begun in South Carolina. The reports respecting apples are somewhat more encouraging in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Kansas, but in the other important apple states the outlook is less promising and dropping continues to be extensively reported.

Payments on Life Insurance Policies.

According to the Insurance Press the payments on life insurance policies in Bedford county are as follows: A. Liberty township; consideration $5. James Russell and others to Annie C. Weaver, tract in Liberty township; consideration $1,100.

Peter Lesauere to Samuel Henry Crissey, tract in Bedford township; consideration $2,949.

ANNUAL MEETING

Of the Pennsylvania Bar Association at Bedford Springs.

President Scott's Address—The "Ripper" Bill—Edward P. Allison Re-logged.

The seventh annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Bar Association, held at the Bedford Springs hotel on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, was largely attended. The first session, Tuesday morning, was mainly occupied with President William Scott's annual address, his subject being "The Legislation of 1901." Mr. Scott briefly recapitulated the many acts passed by the legislature and referred to the "ripper" legislation as causing much surprise. He said the effect of it was to test in the governor the practical control of the government of cities of the second class for a period of two years. If this could be done for cities of the second class for two years there was no apparent reason why the legislature could not confer such power with respect to all municipalities for twenty years.

The rest of the forenoon session was taken up with the reading of the reports of the various committees. The report of the treasurer, William Penn Lloyd, showed that there is a balance in favor of the association of $6,347.58.

At the afternoon session a minute on the death of Edward P. Allison, who was the first secretary of the association, was presented. Addresses were made by Judge J. W. Stimson, S. C. Dickson, W. P. Lloyd and W. O. Hessel. Each speaker paid an eloquent tribute to the high character and executive ability of Mr. Allison. He was referred to as the "founder and pillar" of the association.

Tuesday evening Judge W. M. Rose made an able address on "The Rise of Constitutional Law," in which he gave an interesting historical review of the Magna Charta and the influence it had upon the civil liberty of the nations.

Wednesday morning's session was devoted to a consideration of reports of committees, unfinished business and the reading of bills for proposed legislation. In the afternoon the lawyers took a half holiday and enjoyed the sights to be seen at the Springs and vicinity and in the historic old town.

Wednesday evening S. W. Dana discussed the subject, "Law and Letters, or Some Reflections on the Relations of our Profession to Literature." A paper was also to have been presented by R. Ashhurst Morris, but this feature was postponed until the next morning.

The programme for Thursday morning's session consisted of a discussion of papers, reports of committees and special business. The order of business for the afternoon was the appointment of delegates to the American Bar association, unfinished business, new business and the election of officers.

The meeting closed with the annual banquet yesterday evening. Hon. Lyman D. Gilbert acted as toastmaster and the programme called for responses from Hon. U. M. Rose, Arkansas; Hon. Charles Emory Smith, postmaster general; Hon. John D. McPherson, Pittsburg; Hon. Henry F. Walton, Philadelphia.

Among those who attended the meeting were Judge J. A. Evans, William Scott, Superior Court Judge G. B. Orady, Pittsburg; Samuel C. Dickson, ex-Judge D. Heber, Philadelphia; Judge Lulu Hartley of Bedford; Judge Alvin Evans, Judge A. V. Barker, Ebensburg; Judge J. M. Bailey, Huntingdon; Hon. W. Rush Gibson, Harrisburg; Judge R. B. Umbel, Judge E. H. Repper, Uniontown; Judge U. M. Rose, Little Rock, Ark.; Judge Harmon Yerkes, Doylestown; ex-Attorney General W. O. Hessel, Lancaster; Judge H. M. McClure, Lewisburg.

Sweet Hay a Mighty Food.

Between 60 and 70 lives were lost in a flood following a cloudburst in the Pocones section of the West Virginia mountains. There were two distinct storms. Friday midnight and about noon Saturday, the second being more severe than the first. At ten o'clock Sunday morning the storm had abated, but threatened momentarily to burst with fresh violence. The property loss will reach about $3,000,000. Some of the drowned are among the most prominent people of the section. The district affected is near the Virginia line, about 135 miles west of Roanoke, Va., and 25 miles west of Bluefield, W. Va. It is reported that only one building—a school—remains standing in Keystone, and that the town of Vivian (Elevated position) is annihilated. At Vivian a train was caught in the flood and the passengers were rescued by the use of ropes. Many miles of Norfolk and Western railroad track were washed away.

By Automobile.

Friday morning Attorney H. L. Gehringer, of Pittsburgh, accompanied by Judge A. M. Miller, of Lewisburg, and William Steinwender, of St. Louis, and Wallace Owen, of New York, arrived in Bedford. The young men were on their way from Princeton, N. J., to Pittsburgh, traveling in an automobile. They made the trip—440 miles—in five days. It was a pleasure jaunt, with no intention of establishing a record. The automobile is owned by Mr. Gehringer. He purchased it at Marion, N. J., and invited his friends to accompany him on the journey to his home. The car is a twelve-horse power, weighs 3,100 pounds and ten gallons of gasoline are expected to run it 120 miles under normal conditions. "Our best run was over the mountains," Mr. Gehringer told a Dispatch reporter. "In one day we crossed seven ridges, and in that time we made 140 miles that day." Hillebrand and Steinwender were members of Princeton's basketball nine.

Secretary Gage is certainly unfortunate in choosing his times for tariff reprisals. Just when Europe is trying to muster up its courage to declare commercial war against us he provokes one of our best friends twice in succession and takes a side swipe at another which has taken no voice in the talk against us.

Now, it is argued that Porto Rico must not be granted free trade with the United States until she has proved by six months' experience that her revenues will take the place of the tariff in paying expenses. Incidentally, this will bring us to next December, when congress meets and can repeal the law permitting free trade with the island.

PARK LANCE.

Bedford Divorced From Somerset.

In the legislature on Wednesday the bills appropriating $4,000,000 for a new capitol and $1,000,000 for the public schools, to cover the sum out by Governor Stone two years ago, and the congressional and judicial appointment bills passed finally and were sent to the governor.

According to the congressional appointment bill Bedford, Blair and Cambria counties will comprise the Nineteenth district.

The judicial appointment bill makes Somerset a separate district and attaches Bedford to Huntingdon and Mifflin counties. Hon. J. M. Bailey will be president judge of the Huntingdon-Mifflin-Bedford district until his term expires, the first Monday in January, 1902.

A Step In the Right Direction.

The clerks of Bedford met in Ridenour Hall Tuesday evening, for the purpose of bringing about an early closing hour (7 p. m.). Augustus Bowers was appointed president of the meeting and Harry E. Miller secretary. Thirty clerks and seven merchants were present. The early closing movement was discussed by Dr. S. F. Stahler, A. Hoffman, W. S. Loring, J. P. Blymyer, J. W. Ridenour, Ella Gilchrist and Simon Oppenheimer, after which a motion was made that the clerks of Bedford should be closed at 7.30 p. m., beginning July 1, 1901.

The motion carried unanimously. The meeting was then adjourned.

Seventeen people were killed and a number injured as the result of a fire, following an explosion among a quantity of fireworks in the store of Abraham M. Rittenberg at Paterson, N. J., on Friday. The store was on the ground floor of a tenement building. The cause of the explosion is not known. The property loss will not exceed $35,000.

On Monday Richard Freedman, a photographer, shot and killed his sister Rosa, aged 17, and then killed himself on Chambers street, Boston.

Freedman and his sisters had lived together for a number of years. Some time ago he had a fit of sickness and on recovering showed such an ugly temper that the girls left him some three weeks ago.

BY THE ROPE ROUTE.

John Chaney Hanged Himself In a Stable at Robert McIntyre's hotel, at Delancey, was started Sunday morning at eight o'clock, when, upon going into the stable on the premises to get some firewood, he discovered the lifeless body of a man suspended in the air by a rope, one end of which was fastened to the timbers above his head and the other around his neck.

The suicide was John Chaney. Sunday morning Mr. Chaney arose about six o'clock. He entered the stable by the back door, tied the front door shut with a shoestring and then climbed up a ladder, put a rope around his neck, fastened the loose end to the woodwork and jumped.

Coroner M. A. Stoenor, of Bedford, was summoned to Delancey but after he learned the facts he concluded it would not be necessary to hold an inquest.

John Chaney was about fifty-four years of age. He was married twice; both of his wives are dead. Two children living in the west survive him and a brother and sister live at Delancey.

Two years ago Mr. Chaney suffered a myelitic stroke and ever since his mind was affected. It is thought he was temporarily insane when he took his life. He said on Saturday last that "there would be a man dead who was never dead before."

The body was interred in the Evans cemetery at Conshohocken on Monday.

More New Laws.

Governor Stone has approved the following bills:

Providing for the immediate printing and distribution of advance sheets of laws of this commonwealth as they are enacted from time to time.

To prevent the importation and sale of dressed carcasses of lambs and sheep with the hoofs on.

Relating to the collection of city, school and poor taxes in the cities of the third class and providing that the city treasurers of such cities should be the collectors of these taxes.

Taxing all orders, checks, dividends, coupons, pass books or other paper representing wages or earnings of an employee not paid in cash to the employee or member of his family; to provide for a report to the auditor general of the same and for the failure to make reports.

Authorizing appeals from the decision of the various courts of common pleas in assessment of tax cases to the supreme or superior court of the commonwealth.

Amending an act providing for the centralization of township schools so that school boards may maintain schools in sub-districts.

Wreck At Hyndman.

A freight wreck occurred Saturday afternoon at Hyndman, on the Pittsburg division of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, caused by a rear end collision. A caboose and twelve cars were badly damaged. Engine 1955 left the track and ran over into a nearby field, running her front into a steep embankment, but leaving her tank lying side by side with the track. The engineer, Perry Mitchell, jumped, landing on a pile of stone and severely injuring himself about the head, shoulders and body. He was taken to his home at Conshohocken. The wrecked cars were strewn along the track in such manner that it took over four hours to clear the siding and about ten hours to open the main track.

Miss Doris Smith, the eighteen-year-old daughter of Henry and Sophia Smith, of Hellville, died at the Memorial hospital, Johnstown, Wednesday morning. She was suffering from cancer of the breast. She was married over a year with a tumor and was taken to Johnstown last week to undergo an operation, which was performed on Tuesday. She died at 10 o'clock. Miss Smith is survived by her parents, three sisters and a brother. The body was taken to Hellville yesterday and interment will be made in the Schellburg cemetery this morning.

George Gettys Gibson.

George Gettys Gibson was born at Everett on October 1, 1831, and died at his home in Tyronne on Saturday, of Bright's disease. The deceased was a son of George W. and Hannah Gibson.

On July 24, 1855, he was united in marriage to Miss Catharine Fiske. After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Gibson resided at Hopewell for twenty-seven years. For a livelihood Mr. Gibson engaged in farming, the management of brick and lumbering. In 1882, with his family he removed to Petersburg, and five years later the family settled in Tyronne and have resided there since then. Mr. Gibson at first conducted a butcher shop, but the past four or five years he has charge of a small store for the sale of groceries, etc. At the age of twenty years the deceased became a member of the Methodist Episcopal church and was an active member of that denomination during his entire adult life. He was one of two leading spirits in the organization of the Methodist church at Hopewell many years ago. On September 8, 1864, he enlisted in Company H, Two Hundred and Eighty Pennsylvania volunteers, and served in the famous Hartranft division in the Army of the Potomac, being discharged and returning home to his family on the 1st of June, 1865, after the close of the war. On June 12, 1868, he became a member of Post 172, Grand Army of the Republic, and was since that time been an active comrade of the post. After the institution of Hopewell Lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, years ago, Mr. Gibson was the first person inducted into the mysteries of the order. At the institution of Tyronne senate, Knights Ancient Masonic order, last October, he became a member of that society. The body of the deceased was interred in the Tyronne cemetery. Mr. Gibson is survived by his wife and three children: Mary E. and Phoebe M. Gibson and Mrs. Hannah Moore, of Tyronne; Charles Wesley Gibson, of Nebraska; Jesse A. Gibson, of Palmer, Ill.; and Herbert O. Gibson, of Osceola, Ill. One brother and one sister also survive, namely, Henry F. Gibson, of near Bedford, and Mrs. Mary Kohr.

Certificate of Freedom.

The following is a copy of the freedom paper of John Hamilton, late of Bedford, deceased, a sketch of whose life we published in THE GAZETTE:

Virginia, Hampshire county, to wit: John Hamilton, a free negro, five feet nine and three-fourth inches high, twenty years old the 24th day of July next, with a scar on the end of the second finger on the left hand, a slight scar on the left cheek, rather a prominent forehead, thick lips and a flat nose and a good countenance, liberated by the last will and testament of William Duling, deceased, which is recorded in the county court of Hampshire on the 25th day of November, 1839. Registered this 25th day of December, 1840.

At a court held for Hampshire county the 28th day of December, 1840, ordered that the register made by the clerk of this court of John Hamilton, a free person of color, liberated by the will of William Duling, deceased, be filed in the county of Hampshire, and that the clerk of the court of Hampshire, do hereby certify that the above are true transcripts from the records of my office.

In witness whereof I have hereto set my hand and affixed the seal of said county this 23d day of February, 1841.

BIG JUBILEE EVENT.

Welsh Bros' Show Promises Many Rare Sights and Up-to-Date Features.

The town and vicinity are heavily billed for the appearance of the famous Welsh Bros' big railroad show. The Welsh brothers do not come here as strangers or adventurers, but as the proprietors of a show whose reputation with press and public stands second to none. Its success has been achieved by the fundamental principle of offering the best in the market at the lowest price. It is strictly moral and of tone and character and not one word is said or done to offend the most fastidious lady or gentleman. The features this year are better than ever, one of the most prominent is the renowned Takewasa Royal Japanese troupe (eight people). These dexterous Oriental appear in many amazing acrobatic and novelty acts, all gorgeously embellished with unique and costly paraphernalia and costumes typical of their native land. Another great card is the introduction of Prof. John White's conclusive of trained animals, which comprises several Arabian horses, twenty-five dogs, goats, mules and monkeys, all marvelously trained and exhibiting exploits and tricks out of the ordinary line. Then there are many big variety acts, clever lady gymnasts, up-to-date clowns, jugglers, wire walkers and sensational specialists of every kind. Seats are provided for five thousand persons, uniformed ushers are in attendance to look after the wants and comfort of patrons. The street crowds will leave the show grounds on the morning of the exhibition promptly at eleven o'clock. The exact day and date here is Friday, July 5.

For a livelihood Mr. Gibson engaged in farming, the management of brick and lumbering. In 1882, with his family he removed to Petersburg, and five years later the family settled in Tyronne and have resided there since then. Mr. Gibson at first conducted a butcher shop, but the past four or five years he has charge of a small store for the sale of groceries, etc. At the age of twenty years the deceased became a member of the Methodist Episcopal church and was an active member of that denomination during his entire adult life. He was one of two leading spirits in the organization of the Methodist church at Hopewell many years ago. On September 8, 1864, he enlisted in Company H, Two Hundred and Eighty Pennsylvania volunteers, and served in the famous Hartranft division in the Army of the Potomac, being discharged and returning home to his family on the 1st of June, 1865, after the close of the war. On June 12, 1868, he became a member of Post 172, Grand Army of the Republic, and was since that time been an active comrade of the post. After the institution of Hopewell Lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, years ago, Mr. Gibson was the first person inducted into the mysteries of the order. At the institution of Tyronne senate, Knights Ancient Masonic order, last October, he became a member of that society. The body of the deceased was interred in the Tyronne cemetery. Mr. Gibson is survived by his wife and three children: Mary E. and Phoebe M. Gibson and Mrs. Hannah Moore, of Tyronne; Charles Wesley Gibson, of Nebraska; Jesse A. Gibson, of Palmer, Ill.; and Herbert O. Gibson, of Osceola, Ill. One brother and one sister also survive, namely, Henry F. Gibson, of near Bedford, and Mrs. Mary Kohr.

Certificate of Freedom.

The following is a copy of the freedom paper of John Hamilton, late of Bedford, deceased, a sketch of whose life we published in THE GAZETTE:

Virginia, Hampshire county, to wit: John Hamilton, a free negro, five feet nine and three-fourth inches high, twenty years old the 24th day of July next, with a scar on the end of the second finger on the left hand, a slight scar on the left cheek, rather a prominent forehead, thick lips and a flat nose and a good countenance, liberated by the last will and testament of William Duling, deceased, which is recorded in the county court of Hampshire on the 25th day of November, 1839. Registered this 25th day of December, 1840.

Schellburg

June 25.—Miss Sadie Morgart, after visiting relatives at Windber for several weeks, returned on Saturday.

A. B. Egoil returned yesterday from his southern trip and is very much pleased with the south.

Prof. and Mrs. O. S. Jamison, of Johnstown, are spending a short vacation with relatives at this place.

Miss Jessie C. Garlinger is having a new roof put on her house.

W. S. Morgart, of Windber, spent Sunday in our town.

Thursday last was a busy day out at Commissioner A. H. Egoil's house. On that day he had a barn raising. There were ninety men, twenty women and fifteen children present. The foreman of the carpenters, Jacob Findley, is to be congratulated for every tenon fit the mortise, and hence was no trouble to put the frames together and raise the barn. The barn is 40 by 72 feet and every piece of the frame is of oak. Just at 10 a. m. a swarm of bees came out and settled on a little plum tree in the yard at the front of the house and thus made things lively for a while. At noon the one hundred and twenty-five persons partook of a sumptuous feast and if any went away hungry it was not because there was not enough for all, for when all had eaten "Gideon" espied thirty pies and three large cakes that had not been touched.

Sunday evening the Lutherans celebrated Children's Day by rendering a service entitled "God's Loving Care," consisting of music, responsive reading and recitations. The opening prayer was by the pastor of the Reformed church and the address by Rev. Edgar E. Johnson, of the Presbyterian church. Miss Ada Gollipier, of the Reformed church, presided at the organ. The whole service was rendered in an acceptable manner and great credit is due those who had charge of it. The decorations were very elaborate and beautiful, consisting of palms, ferns, roses and flowers, and evergreens. The house was not large enough to accommodate all the guests. An offering of $10.00 was taken up for the Reformed Treasurers' Home, GIDSON.

LIFE IN THE PHILIPPINES.

Letter From Elbert E. Devore To Walter F. Moore

SANTA CRUZ, MARINOUQUE (Is.), May 3, 1901.

My dear friend—It is very hot down here now—about 110 in the shade—while a good thing in it, it gets cold at night. Thunder-showers are quite frequent at this time of the year.

We have three seasons here. The climate of the Philippines varies little from that of other places in the same latitude. The first, cold and dry, commences in November; the second, warm but still dry, begins in March, the greatest heat being experienced from April to the end of May; and the third, which is excessively wet, continues from June to the middle of November.

The natives speak the Tagalog language; there are also a great many of them who speak the Spanish language. I suppose both languages were taught in the schools here before the insurrection.

The products are sugar, hemp, tobacco, coffee and indigo. The natives live principally on rice; corn is also used to a certain extent. I wish you could see them preparing their rice for eating. They have a swell way of doing it. They first take a block of wood, which is generally about three feet long and fifteen or eighteen inches square, with a large cavity in one side of the block, and after pouring some rice in the block they take a short pole and commence stamping it, so as to get the hull off. Some times there are five or six working at one block, each striking at the rate of one hundred blows per minute; the women are also well experienced at it.

The Roman Catholic is the prevailing religion.

The Insurrectos have all surrendered on the island, so we do not have any hiding any more, for which I am not sorry, but I miss my chicken and sweet potatoes, which I always got when out on a hike. I am also getting out of practice cooking, for what a soldier can't cook can't be cooked.

I will have to do for this time. Hoping to hear from you soon, I remain Your true friend,

ELBERT E. DEVORE.

Post.

JUNE 25.—The lightning on last Thursday struck a telephone pole near the residence of T. R. Studebaker, C. W. Blackburn and George Studebaker, a young man, T. R. Studebaker, were playing potatoes near where the lightning struck. Mr. Blackburn was knocked down and the boy was knocked off the horse and was carried to the house unconscious. Neighbors were sent for and everything was done to bring him to, but failed until he was applied, when the young man revived. But his feet and legs were swelling very fast and Dr. James Statter, of New Paris, was telephoned for and by the time he had arrived the boy was about fully recovered. The whole Studebaker family were more or less shocked and Mrs. McIlwaine was also shocked so much that she was staggered. There is a place in the potato patch about sixteen feet square where the stalks are burned to the roots and some of them are torn out of the ground. Two chickens that were feeding close to where the bolt struck were killed.

Samuel Leary, of Johnstown, paid his children a short visit and attended the love feast on Saturday and Sunday. He returned to Johnstown on his wheel Sunday evening.

Harry Otto came over from Windber on Saturday and returned on Sunday, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. W. S. Otto, who has been visiting in this community for two or three weeks.

The Dunkard love feast brought quite a number of strangers from the distance on Saturday and Sunday. The train on Saturday kept quite a number away.

Miss Myra Amick and Miss Jessie Spidel, of Bedford, came up on Saturday to attend the love feast. They are guests of Miss May Hissong. Miss Amick returned to Bedford on Monday. Miss Spidel will remain a few days. Point and Fisherton have great attractions for young ladies.

Misses Nellie and Jessie Blackburn, who are living at Bedford, paid their home a visit on Saturday. They took in the love feast and festival and returned to Bedford on Monday.

A. B. Denison, wife and child, of Johnstown, were visiting relatives and friends in this community last week. They returned home on Saturday.

William and Ed. Crouse, accompanied by Misses Nellie and Annie Crouse and a gentleman friend, all of Johnstown, attended the soldiers' reunion and visited friends at Napier and Wolfburg and returned to Johnstown on Wednesday.

George Pensyl is getting his engine and threshing machine in good repair and will be ready to do good work as soon as the grain is out.

Mrs. Ball Davis, of New Paris, paid her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McIlwaine, a visit on Saturday and Sunday.

New Enterprises.

JUNE 24.—Miss Mabel Beck and Miss May Brumbaugh and brother Roscoe and Ernest Repligie returned home last week from Juniata college.

Misses Minnie and Carrie Isenburg are getting ready to go, in a few days, to visit their brother Blair, in Johnstown.

One day last week Mrs. Sarah Tralender fell from a cherry tree on the premises of Irvin Kagarise and broke her collar bone. Dr. Tobias Campbell, of Loyalburg, gave the necessary surgical attention and the patient is doing fairly well at this time.

On Friday last John Eversole was called to his long home. He was aged fifty-two years, five months and eight days. He leaves to mourn his early death a wife and two sons, Preston, of Altoona, and Ransom, of this place. Mr. Eversole was a quiet and inoffensive citizen and a consistent member of the Dunkard church for a number of years. Funeral services were held Sunday morning by Elder C. L. Beck and the interment was made in the new cemetery.

C. Leon Brumbaugh has been elected principal of the Holidaysburg schools. Mrs. Alma Sweet, of Saxton, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Harriet Snowberger.

A teachers' examination and an educational meeting in the evening were the order of exercises in the New Enterprise school house on Friday. This was at the close of a successful school term taught by H. D. Metzger and L. R. Hinkle. Mr. Hinkle has accepted the principalship of the Pleasantville schools at a salary of $45 per month.

"Aunt" Sallie Zook, a former resident of this place, died suddenly on the night of the 10th inst. in the Old Folks Home in Shirelsburg, where she had been staying the past three years.

John S. Brumbaugh is on a visit to Toledo, O., where his son Harry resides.

Atlee Brumbaugh and brother Roscoe completed the course in Juniata college last week. M. S. G.
